Email and Collaboration

If you are a user of Microsoft M365 or Google Workspace are you tired of receiving spam, phishing and malicious emails? Do you know if you have compromised accounts? Can you tell if others are sending email on behalf of you? Well that's just the tip of the iceberg. We rely on these platforms to provide email and collaboration however the security features on each platform vary from non-existent to average depending on the license you have. Visibility of what is actually going on is typically non-existent or so technical it means nothing to the average user.

Email is a critical function to all businesses, we depend on it, we cannot afford to be without it.

Join our session and we will explore a number of methods for securing email and providing visibility.

- Protecting against spam, phishing and malware
- Protecting against compromised accounts
- Verifying that email is legitimate
- How to check for blacklisting of my email and exposure to public breaches
- Dealing with photocopiers, printers, other software and similar products
- Reporting for visibility.
